

December 12, 2022

Families,

I am writing to let you know that we are still waiting on some asbestos test results for Bicentennial School.

As a result, Bicentennial will be closed again tomorrow (Tuesday, December 13, 2022).

Air quality tests have come back clear, which is positive news, and we anticipate the remaining test results tomorrow. I assure you that all results will be reviewed by a third-party expert and posted on our website.

Your child's teacher will check-in with you tomorrow afternoon.

If we are unable to reopen on Wednesday, teachers will be prepared for at-home learning. In the event this happens, and your child requires a Chromebook, please let the teacher know at that time, or email Principal Trevor McGowan at tmcgowan@hrce.ca.

Once again, thank you for your patience.
